CWF and WIGS are joining forces to invite all the ladies of the church for a Christmas meal in July. This is a fellowship lunch and as so many are busy at Christmas time, we have decided to try a Christmas meal early.

Cost will be $10 for a full roast meal and plum pudding or fruit salad and ice-cream. Would you please put your name on the list in the foyer to enable us to cater for this meal.

We need you to let us know this weekend for catering purposes please.

Women In God's Service

July 20th is our Annual Card Making Night and we need to know numbers to be able to organise the kits to be cut and sorted. If you are coming, will you please put your name on the list so we can add your name to the list of kits to prepare.

Good stewards not only use their talents and resources wisely while living, but they also anticipate future needs by using proper legal instruments to continue witness after death. No-one is compelled to draw a will, but if you do not declare your intentions, the state will execute its own plan. You may not approve of their decisions, but it will be too late to protest.

Church members frequently neglect to prepare wills. Experts estimate that seven out of ten Christians have no will Celebrities also neglect the privilege of speaking after death. Pablo Picasso is a case in point. He wrote, "When I die it will be a ship-wreck." And it was! His son Paulo was his only legitimate heir. Claude, Paloma and Maya were illegitimate children by two mistresses. When he died in 1973 without a will, his estate was appraised at $260 million.

On the day of the funeral, Paulo's son, Pablito, swallowed a container of bleach and later died. In 1977, Maya's mother, Maria Theresa hanged herself. Jacqueline, Picasso's second wife, carefully selected paintings for a 1986 show, then shot herself.

In contrast, when Malcolm Forbes died, he left all employees a week's salary and forgave all personal debts up to $10,000.
